Highlights from Our 2022 Conference

Our last conference at EDF Lab Paris-Saclay in September 2022 was a resounding success, uniting attendees from 22 countries under the theme "Beyond COP26 and Fit-for-55: How Energy Evaluation Can Inform a Fair Path to Carbon Neutrality."

Held from 28-30 September 2022 in a hybrid format, the event featured 53 presentations, 22 sessions including plenaries, panels, and the inaugural Kathleen Gaffney Prize award ceremony. Sponsored by EDF, ADEME, and Danfoss, the conference provided an invaluable opportunity for the evaluation community to address emerging challenges, such as digitalization and policy impacts in a rapidly changing context. The full conference report and recordings are available on our website.
